FORWARD

1955

1955

1955

It has been the custom of former classes to dedicate the "Forward" to individual members of the school faculty.

However, we feel that it would be impossible for us to pick out any one person to dedicate this book to, because all the teachers have done so much to help us towards our goal of graduation.

Therefore, it is with a deep sense of gratitude and appreciation that we, the Class of '55, dedicate this yearbook to the entire faculty of Saint Joseph's College.

OUR PRINCIPAL

Reverend Karl F. Wilhelm, S.M.
U. S. A.

Dear Graduates of 1955

As a mother rejoices over the birth of her child and in her mind begins to build up a great and noble future for her new born, so the Principal and faculty rejoice over you each year as the time of graduation draws near.

You, graduates, the fruit of our years of labor and toil, are about to begin a new life. Our hopes for you are high. As a mother, we envisage for all of you greatness and fame. We feel confidence that you have received the knowledge and moral training to make your lives sublime.

But the reaching of any ideal requires action, a struggle, fighting. Beware of the attitude which too, too many people adopt today. They sit back and criticize the way the government is being run, the injustices in the business world, the delinquency in our youth, the failure of the churches, and the breakdown of the home. But doing something about the sad plight, the picture, never enters their minds. Surely someone should do something but consciously or unconsciously they take the attitude of "Let George Do It."

What I am driving at is well illustrated by the great Negro heavyweight boxing Champion, Jack Johnson. When he was fighting Jess Willard for the crown under Havana's blazing sun in the summer of 1915, a spectator at the ringside kept up a running fire of abuse at Johnson. He criticized Johnson's family, the color of his skin, and finally his technique and courage in the ring. Between bells, Johnson leaned over the ropes, smiled, and said: "Man, you're down there talking. I'm up here fighting."

Graduates, don't be down there talking. Get up there in the ring fighting—fighting for the truth, for good, for justice, for the return of moral principles in government, in business, in education, in the home. Get your friends to fight with you, sustained by the knowledge that this is the only road to that peace you desire for yourselves and your children.

Science and diplomacy of expediency have had their day. Their miserable failure is shouted at you by every radio and newspaper in the land.

Rise now—men of courage and justice! Know that in your fight for truth, goodness, and justice you are truly fighting the "war to end all wars." Is it not as simple as one and one are two, to see that where people and nations practice the justice insisted upon by the moral law, God's eternal law, there can be no war? One or both sides must be committing injustice before either one can think of war. Hence, Peace is rightly called the fruit of justice.

Restore God and His justice in government and you have peace. Restore God and His justice in business and you have security. Restore God to our youth and you will have men of integrity. Restore God to the homes and you will have joy and fidelity.

Once more, dear graduates, go forth as men, fighting for God and justice. Leave to petty people to go on in their selfishness, just talking. You can make your life sublime and leave behind you accomplishments, memories, and ideals as an inspiration to your children to continue the fight for justice and peace.

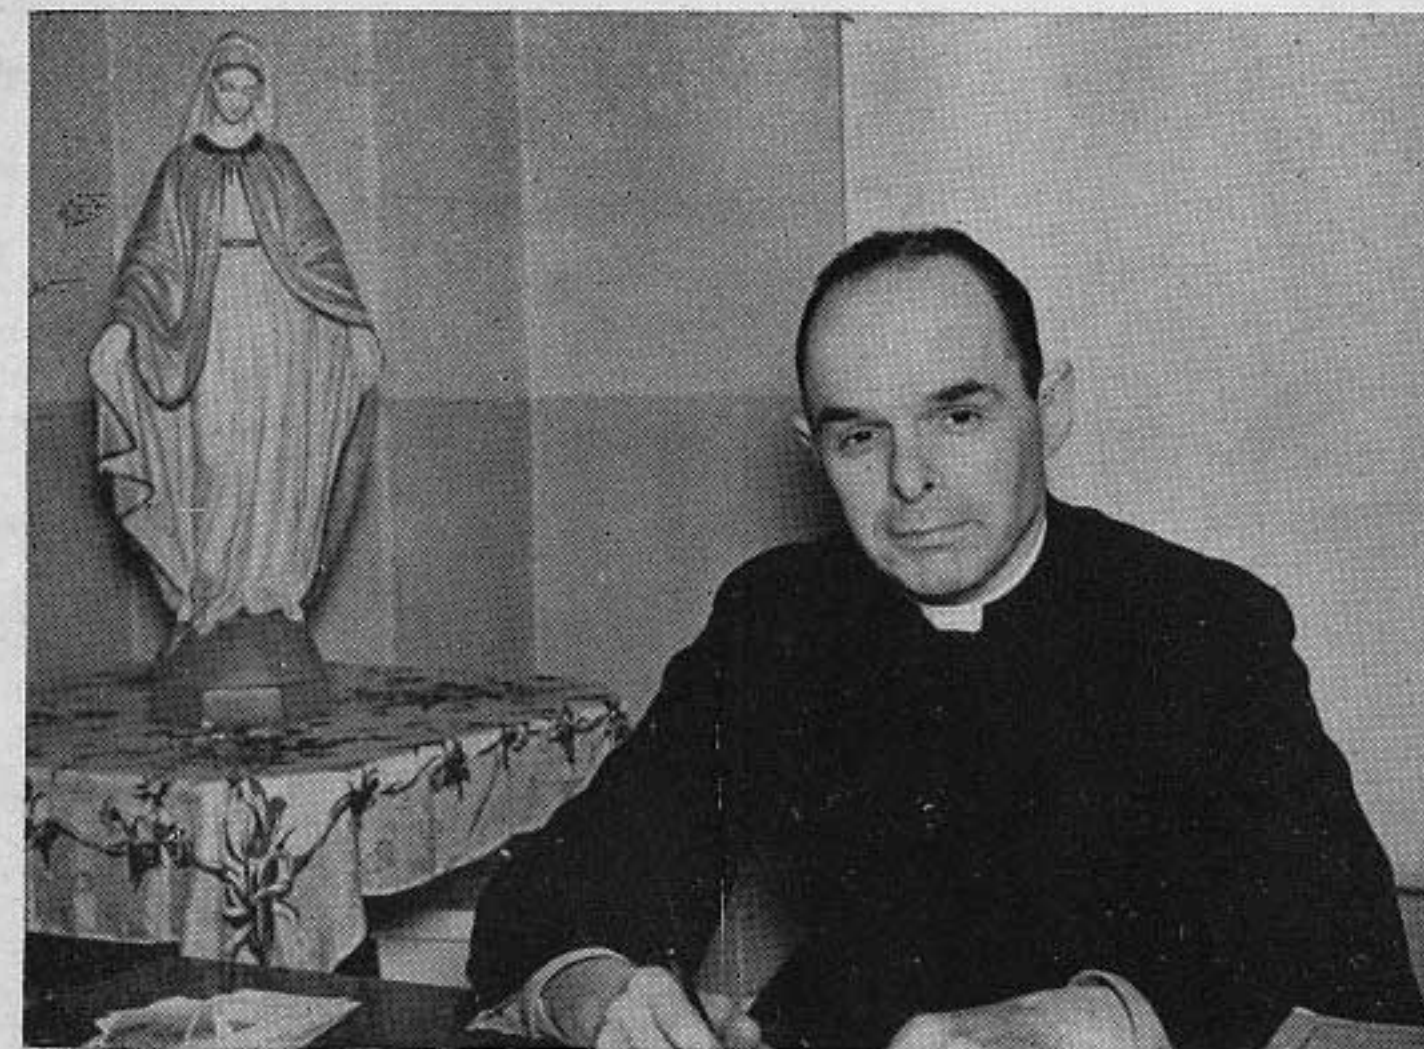

Finally one day you will joyfully say with Saint Paul: "I have fought the good fight and there is laid up for me a crown of victory."

Sincerely, joyfully and hopefully,

Karl F. Wilhelm, S.M.

Our Jubilarians

Silver : 25 Years

Gold : 50 Years

Diamond : 60 Years

SILVER

GOLD

On October 29 and November 1, 1954 we had the pleasure and the honor of celebrating a concurrence of events unique in the annals of Saint Joseph College and unusual, to say the least, in the history of any educational establishment: the Silver, Golden and Diamond Jubilees of three members of the faculty.

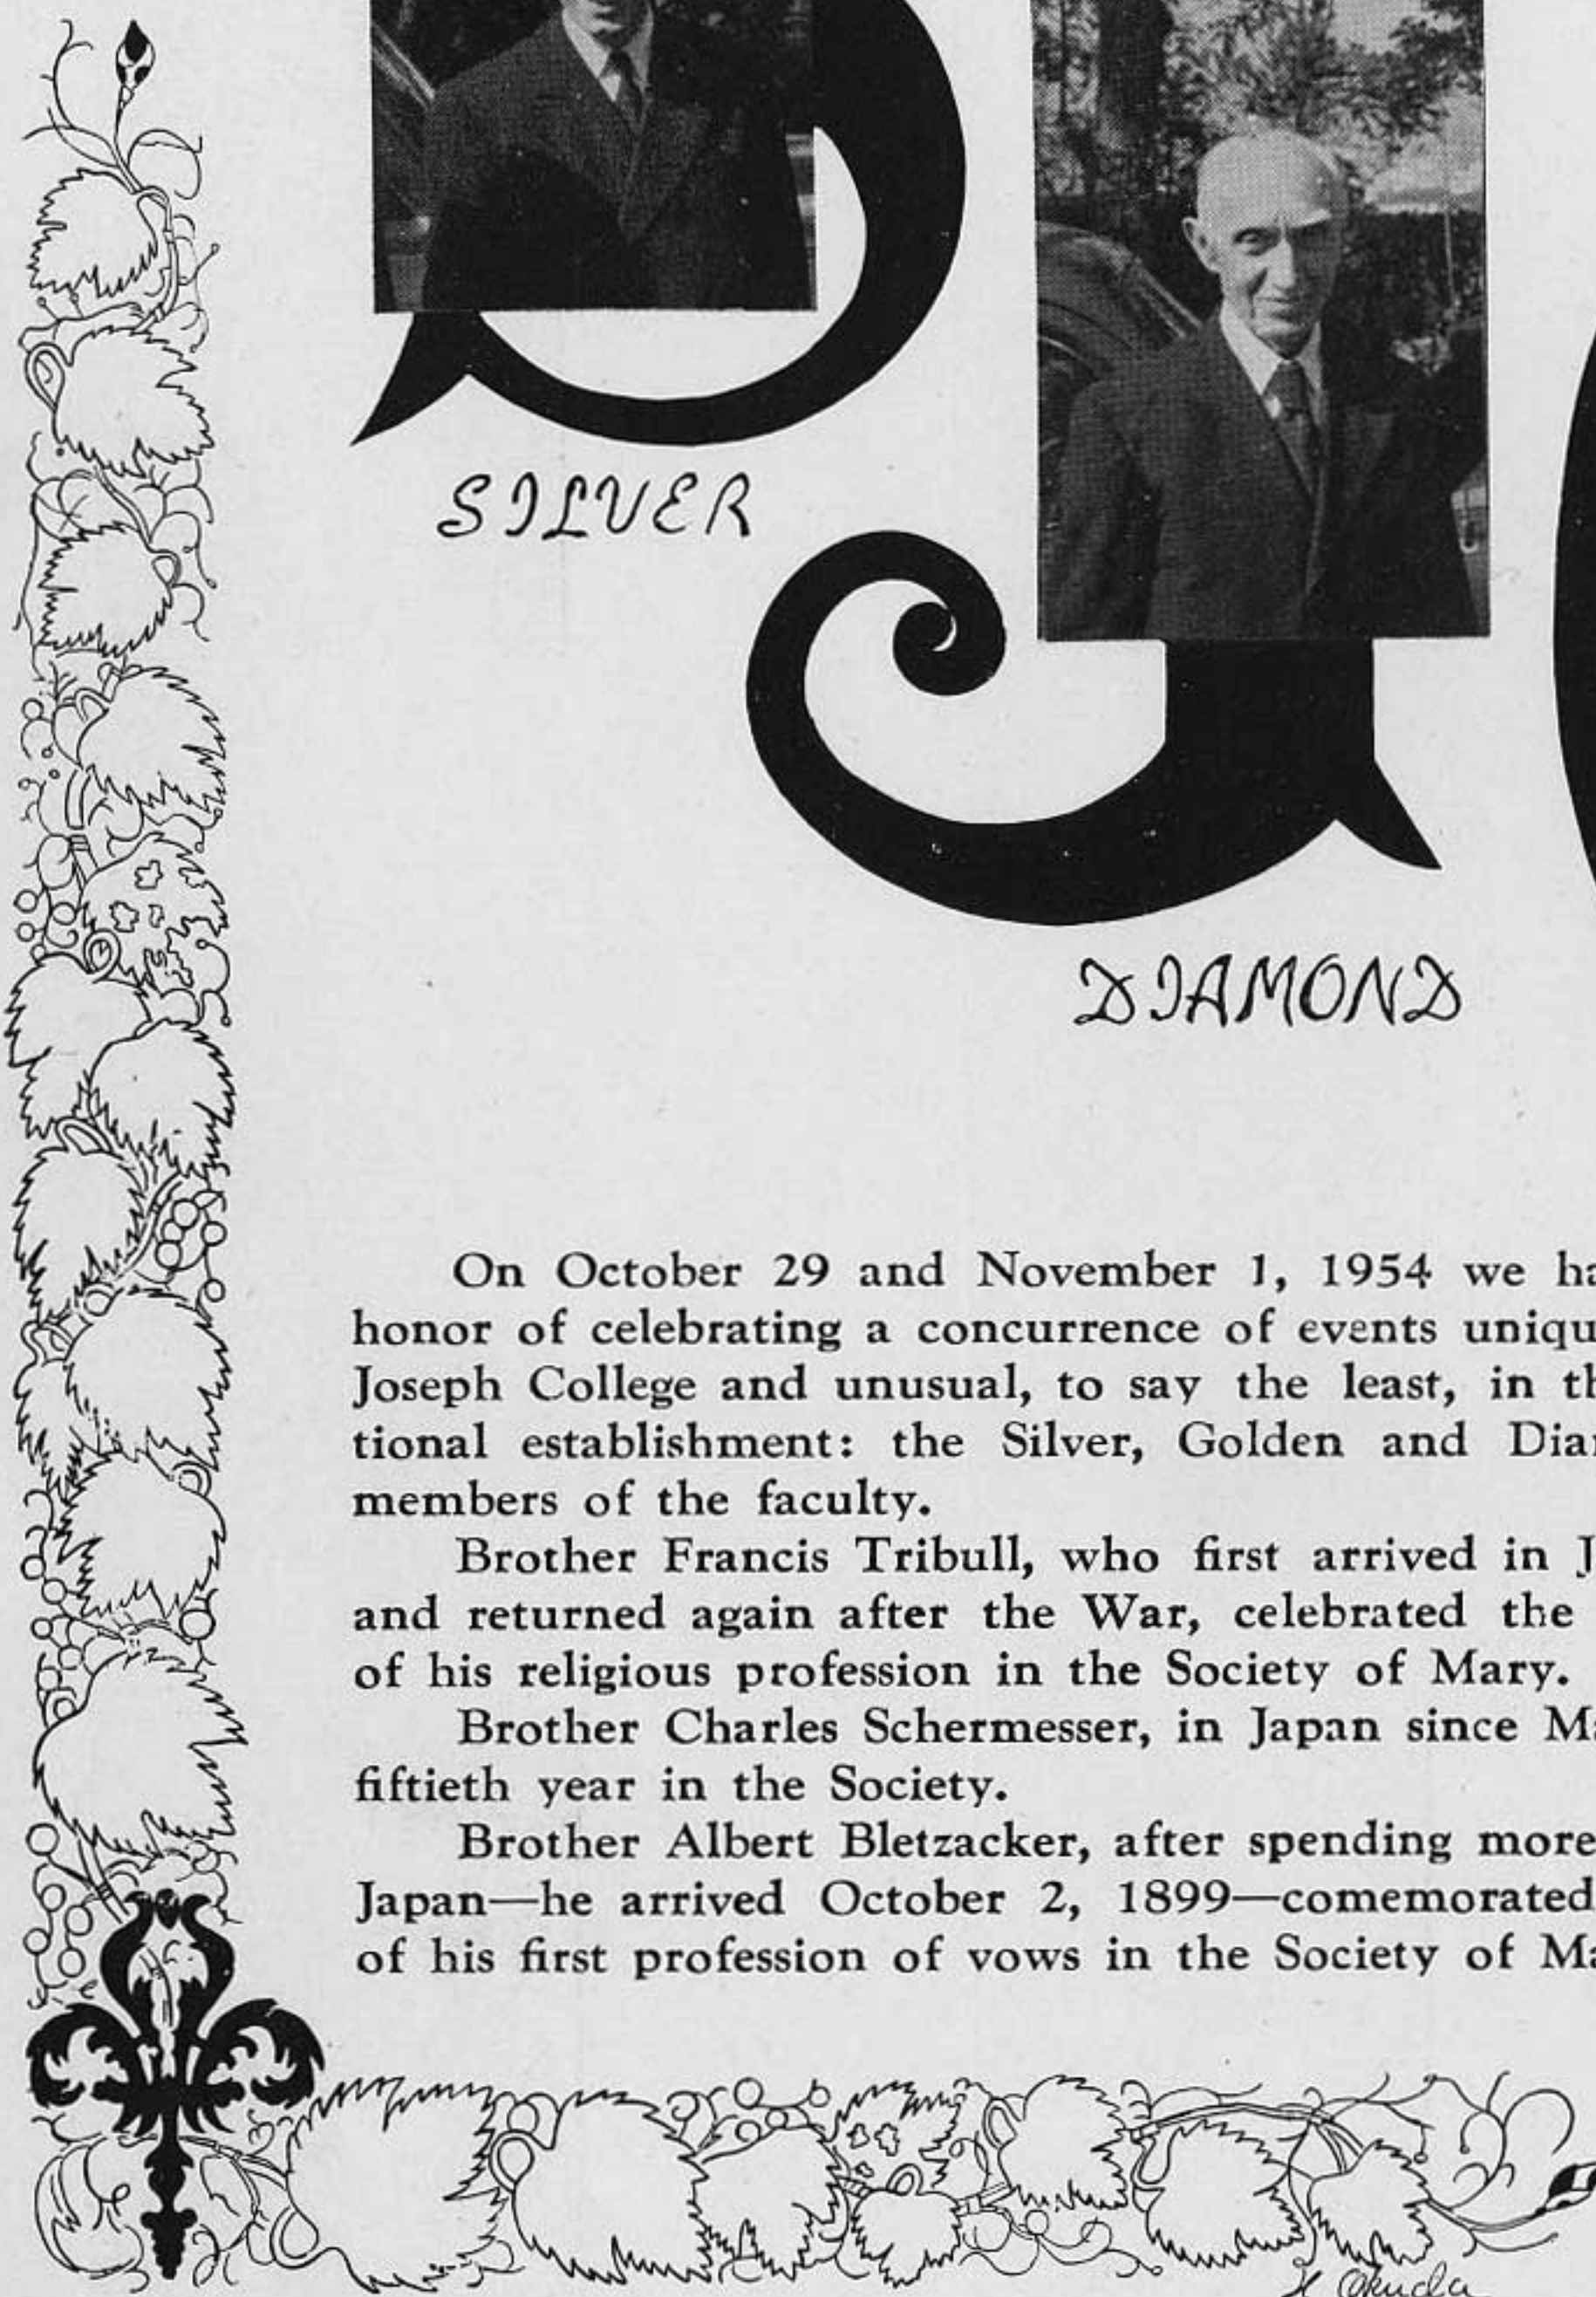

Brother Francis Tribull, who first arrived in Japan in September 1935 and returned again after the War, celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his religious profession in the Society of Mary.

Brother Charles Schermesser, in Japan since March, 1908, celebrated his fiftieth year in the Society.

Brother Albert Bletzacker, after spending more than fifty-five years in Japan—he arrived October 2, 1899—commemorated the sixtieth anniversary of his first profession of vows in the Society of Mary.

GENTLEMEN ALWAYS

Under the able guidance of Bro. James and the leadership of their class officers, our "Runner-up graduates" are attaining great heights in many fields. By living up to their motto, "Gentlemen always", they have acquired most of the habits of a gentleman; even though from time to time human nature may work overtime and cause a little trouble. The initiative of the Juniors, especially in the originating and organizing of the new school paper, "SJC Chronicle", has been well demonstrated. Following a trend set by their predecessors in the eleventh grade, this class, too, is divided into two parties, the pros and the cons. Each keeps the other in check when discussing matters of importance during class meetings.

Can anyone disagree that these young men are bound for success?

TENTH GRADE

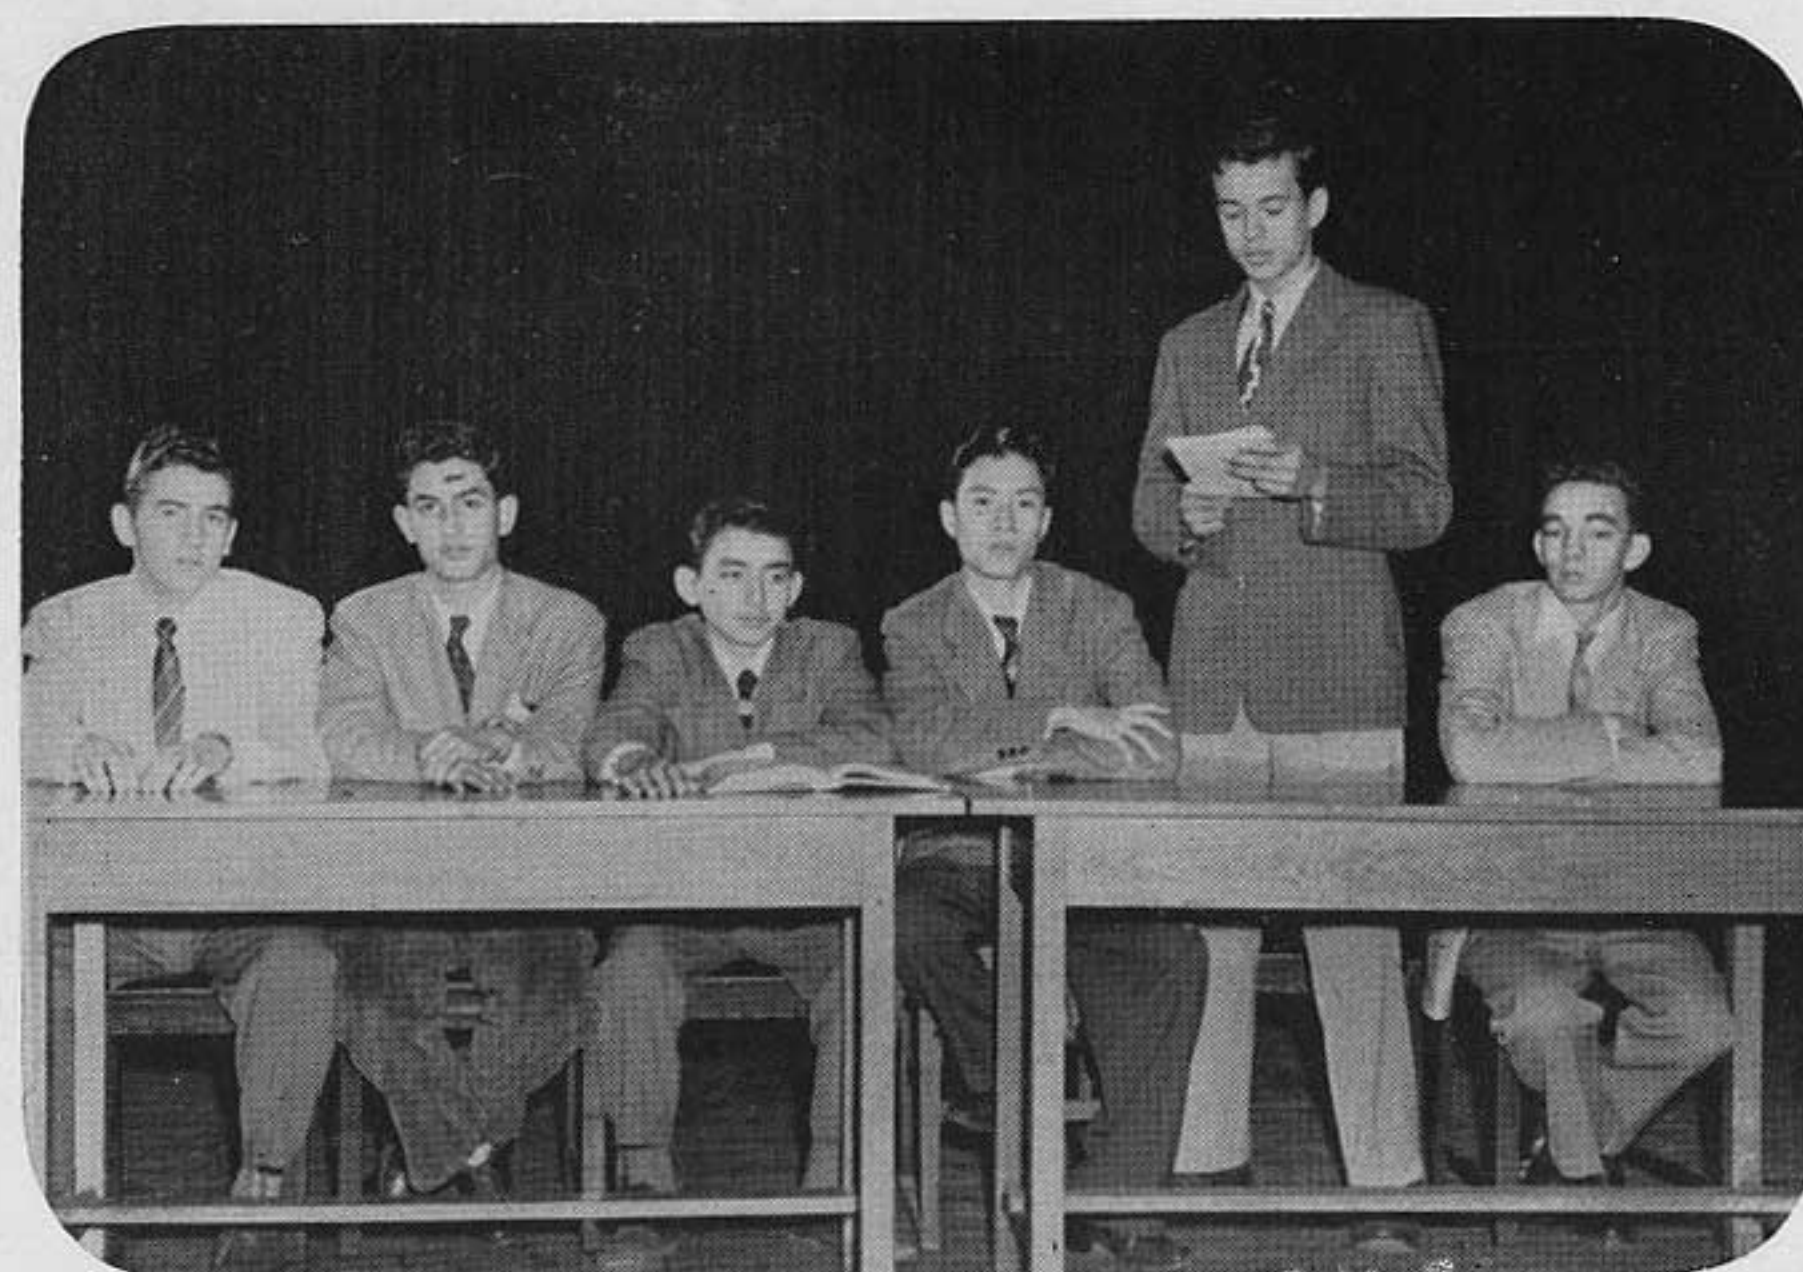

Although the Sophomores are still in the same room they occupied last year, they feel that they have lifted themselves a step higher on the high school ladder. They are a jolly, carefree lot. Though seemingly little unified and almost indifferent to one another, they have deep down in their hearts a union and spirit of brotherly love developed by long years working and studying together. Though they had no class officers and waited, with Bro. Paul's aid, half a year for the return of their home-room teacher, Bro. Germain, they were will represented at each important meeting. The class runs quietly on the tracks of education, formation, and family spirit. While enjoying a reasonable amount of liberty, these "Wise-fools" were yet kept in the firm grip of discipline. Every so often, they may be stalled on a difficult theorm in Geometry, but after a clear explanation, a little thought, and some work, the smoke, the fog, and the clouds of doubt fade away, and the "Wise Fools" see the light once again.

FRESHMEN

Under the able guidance of Bro. Jose, these young men have already adapted themselves to the tempestuous waters of high school. Though still a little behind in the number of honor students, these seniors of the future are well on their way. French and algebra seem to be the new foes they have to tackle. In athletics these boys continue the excellent sportsmanship they learned in grade school. Besides contributing six players to the school soccer team, this class is a threat to the others in the intramural games. In basketball and softball they have fairly strong teams, strong enough to hold their own with the other classes. A large number of boys from this class provide the school choir with deep voices which aid the choir in the fine job it does. In general they have a fine "esprit de corps" which eventually will make them leaders in studies, sports, and gentlemanly conduct.

These boarders are in high school now and have new responsibilities.

The graduating class of the grade school, composed of thirty-nine boys of eight different nationalities, takes studies seriously. These men know that only through diligent application to school work can they reach their ultimate goals in life; for school life includes not only intellectual effort but a spirit of co-operation, mutual help, and brotherhood. Under the competent tutelage and supervision of Bro. Tribull, their homeroom teacher, and instruction in various specialized subjects from several other faculty members, these leaders of the grade school march confidently forward into the upper classes. Most of the Eighth Graders participate in one sport or another, many, in several. Some are skillful players; others just play for the fun of it. All of them, though, appreciate the efforts of their teachers and leaders who help them along the road toward secure and lasting knowledge for a full and happy life.

SEVENTH GRADE

The thirty-four boys who compose the Seventh Grade represent a little U.N. of twelve nationalities. Differences of background, culture, or nationality, however, do not prevent a perfect union among them. These boys have learned—through the years of S.J.C. training behind them—to work, play and study together.

This year's Seventh Graders seem to be promising future Einsteins, real specialists in mathematics! Bro. Jose, their arithmetic teacher would not hesitate to present them with the hardest of problems—confident of getting a correct answer each time.

The boys describe their home-room teacher, Mr. Dobbyn, as a kind man with a classical moustache. Under his guidance and the instruction of their other teachers, they are carefully preparing for next year, the climax of their grade school education.

The sixth grade has no class officers but co-operates very well with the direction of its home room teacher, Bro. Santos. Although the members of this class are still quite young, they will be able to find responsible members to handle the tasks of officers next year. Since most of the boys in the class are clever and diligent, they make a great deal of progress. The class, consisting of 40 students from 14 nations, has a great interest in sports and in study. Some of these young men come long distances from as far as Tokyo and Kamakura, yet they can manage to arrive at school early each morning. Their home room teacher, who also teaches his class spelling and history, is well liked and though he permits occasional fun during class the boys know when serious work is to be done. These young men have completed six years in grade school, with but two years to go before graduation.

Under the watchful eye of Brother Eulogio, the fifth graders have advanced another step in their studies. Since these "little men" have mastered their A.B.C.'s, additions, subtractions, and so forth, in the lower grades they have gradually come to distinguish between nouns and verbs, adverbs and adjectives, fractions and decimals.

The fifth grade is made up of thirty-nine boys, differing in race, nationality, religion and customs, but under the capable guidance and fatherly advice of their teachers, these lads have learned to work, study, and play together as men of S.J.C. of which the school can be proud.

The fifth graders have been leading in the struggle for the grade school honor roll with twelve honor students to their credit. This class is also noted for its quiet study periods, its generosity in contributing to the charity fund, and its all-around spirit of cooperation. Small in stature, the fifth-graders are nevertheless big hearted.

B. Iwane.

Four years have passed and four remain for these young men till grade school graduation. This group of 4th graders has passed well the basic training in reading and writing but now must work harder at more difficult spelling and arithmetic. Comes arithmetic, the boys as well as their fingers are busy working overtime, trying to get the right answer. Their favorite period comes when the teacher sets the books aside and starts with his "once upon a time" stories. The boys anxiously await the lunch and recess bells that they may display their ability in soccer, baseball or "Menko". Getting the best in moral, mental and physical education these lads are building a solid foundation for their future. The Fourth Graders are generous in giving to charity for they know that God will bless them with happiness in this world and two-fold in the next.

THIRD GRADE

Now we are on the 3rd step of our grade school career. In the first and second we studied our A, B, C's and a bit of writing and reading. Now we are ready and willing to learn more of everything. With drawing as one of their best-liked subjects, this class will surely give S.J.C. some good artists or cartoonists in a few years. When the recess bell rings you hear a "Hi Ho Silver" and at once the "roughnecks" are off playing cowboy and Indians. Now and then on a blue Monday when dullness settles over the class, Brother Daniel stirs up interest with exciting stories—the boys prefer the cowboy and Indian stories. During the Marian year the 3rd grade gave a good showing at the daily decade to our Lady of Fatima. These 3rd graders look up to God for His care and protection and to their teachers for guidance and training. As these young men progress through the College they will face the world with smiling brightness.

SECOND GRADE

Just a step higher than last year these stalwarts are more used to school life than they were then. They begin the day with a prayer and then settle down to work. Mrs. Sakai takes care of these lads and makes sure that they get the proper training. If anyone of them becomes a little mischievous, she readily puts him in line and, surprisingly, very few of them repeat the mistakes.

SECOND GRADE

At times during the arithmetic period they are stumped by some tough problem, but after some thinking they hit the track and arrive at a correct answer. This jolly bunch of lads is ever ready to help the teacher, the class, and the school in any little way they can, and if they continue thus, they are sure to have success in their future.

FIRST GRADE

The first grade is the gateway to the scholastic career of every student. It is in this class that the beginners get their first chance to know a little of Reading, 'Riting, 'Rithmetic, and Religion. With the careful guidance of Bro. Leo and their own sharp little minds, the newcomers progress rapidly in the acquirement of knowledge. Despite many difficulties these youngsters push on, with dogged persistence, preparing themselves to be the men of tomorrow. These energetic kids are very active in their classroom, but more so when they are on the playground. When recess rolls around, you should see them dash out of the building—are they fast! Some recreation mixed with study makes school life pleasant and interesting for our “little fellows.”

BOARDING SESSION

"Home is the Boarder." This is how every boarder feels toward his "second home"—S.J.C. Dormitory. Many come from distances, leaving their homes to find at S.J.C. an education. Still, quite a few boys come from the Yokohama district, wishing to live with brother-like school-mates, enjoying the privilege of an S.J.C. education.

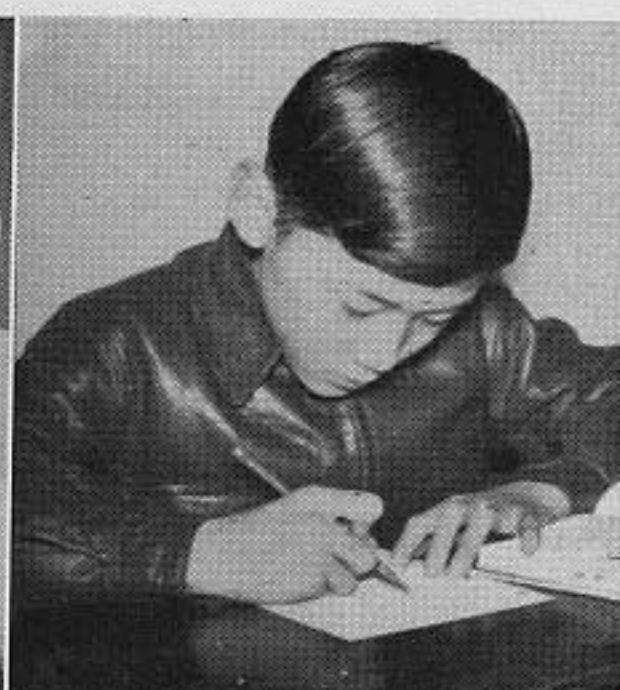

The idea of boarding at the school, seems to them, not merely living gregariously, but rather developing a new kind of home-life. The Senior Boarders have organized a Boarder's Committee to help toward this end. Suggestions, ideas, problems that pertain to the boarders' study, sports, recreation, or any matters of common interest are discussed and settled by this Committee under the supervision of Brother Paul, their prefect.

The Junior Boarders, likewise showing a fine spirit of co-operation, have worked together to achieve a family-like unity under their prefect, Brother Daniel. By doing this, all the boys are practicing self-reliance and self-government which will be helpful in their future careers.

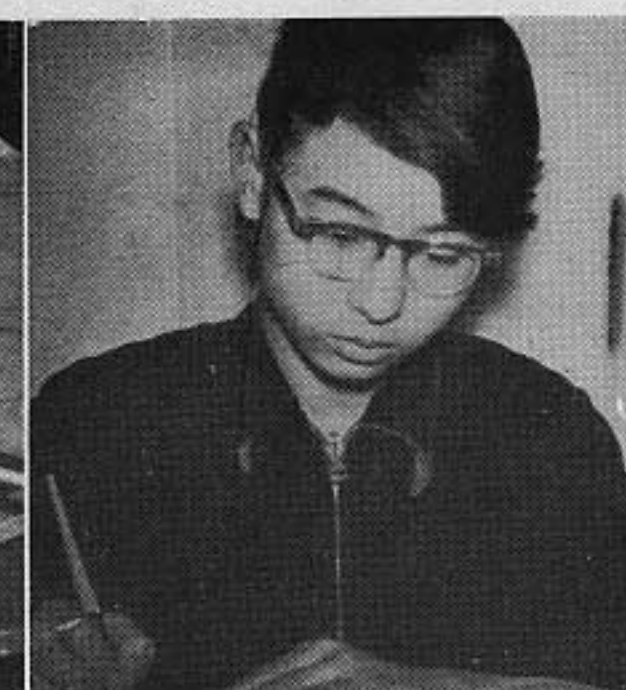

The Boarders have also organized various sports groups and a small candy and refreshment store, through their Committee, to give individuals the true feeling of real home-like atmosphere, and practice in business and public-relations, which will be of great help in later life.

ACTIVITIES

On the feast of the Immaculate Conception, Dec. 8, 1954, a group of nine boys, having been baptized into the Catholic faith four days previously, received their first Holy Communion. Here they pose for posterity: (l. to r.) V. Tse, R. Iwasaki, A. Akiyama, D. Kikuchi, E. Kobayashi, F. Tanabe, R. Kikuchi, A. Kikuchi, L. Ichikawa.

RELIGION ETHICS

The correct outlook concerning one's duties toward God, neighbor and self, based on sound Christian moral principles, is considered so vitally important in the formation of a well-balanced mind at St. Joseph College that it devotes one whole period each day to moral education. Catholic students are instructed in the fundamental doctrines of the Catholic faith, whereas those of other faiths receive instruction in Ethics, a branch of natural philosophy which trains the mind to form and hold sound convictions.

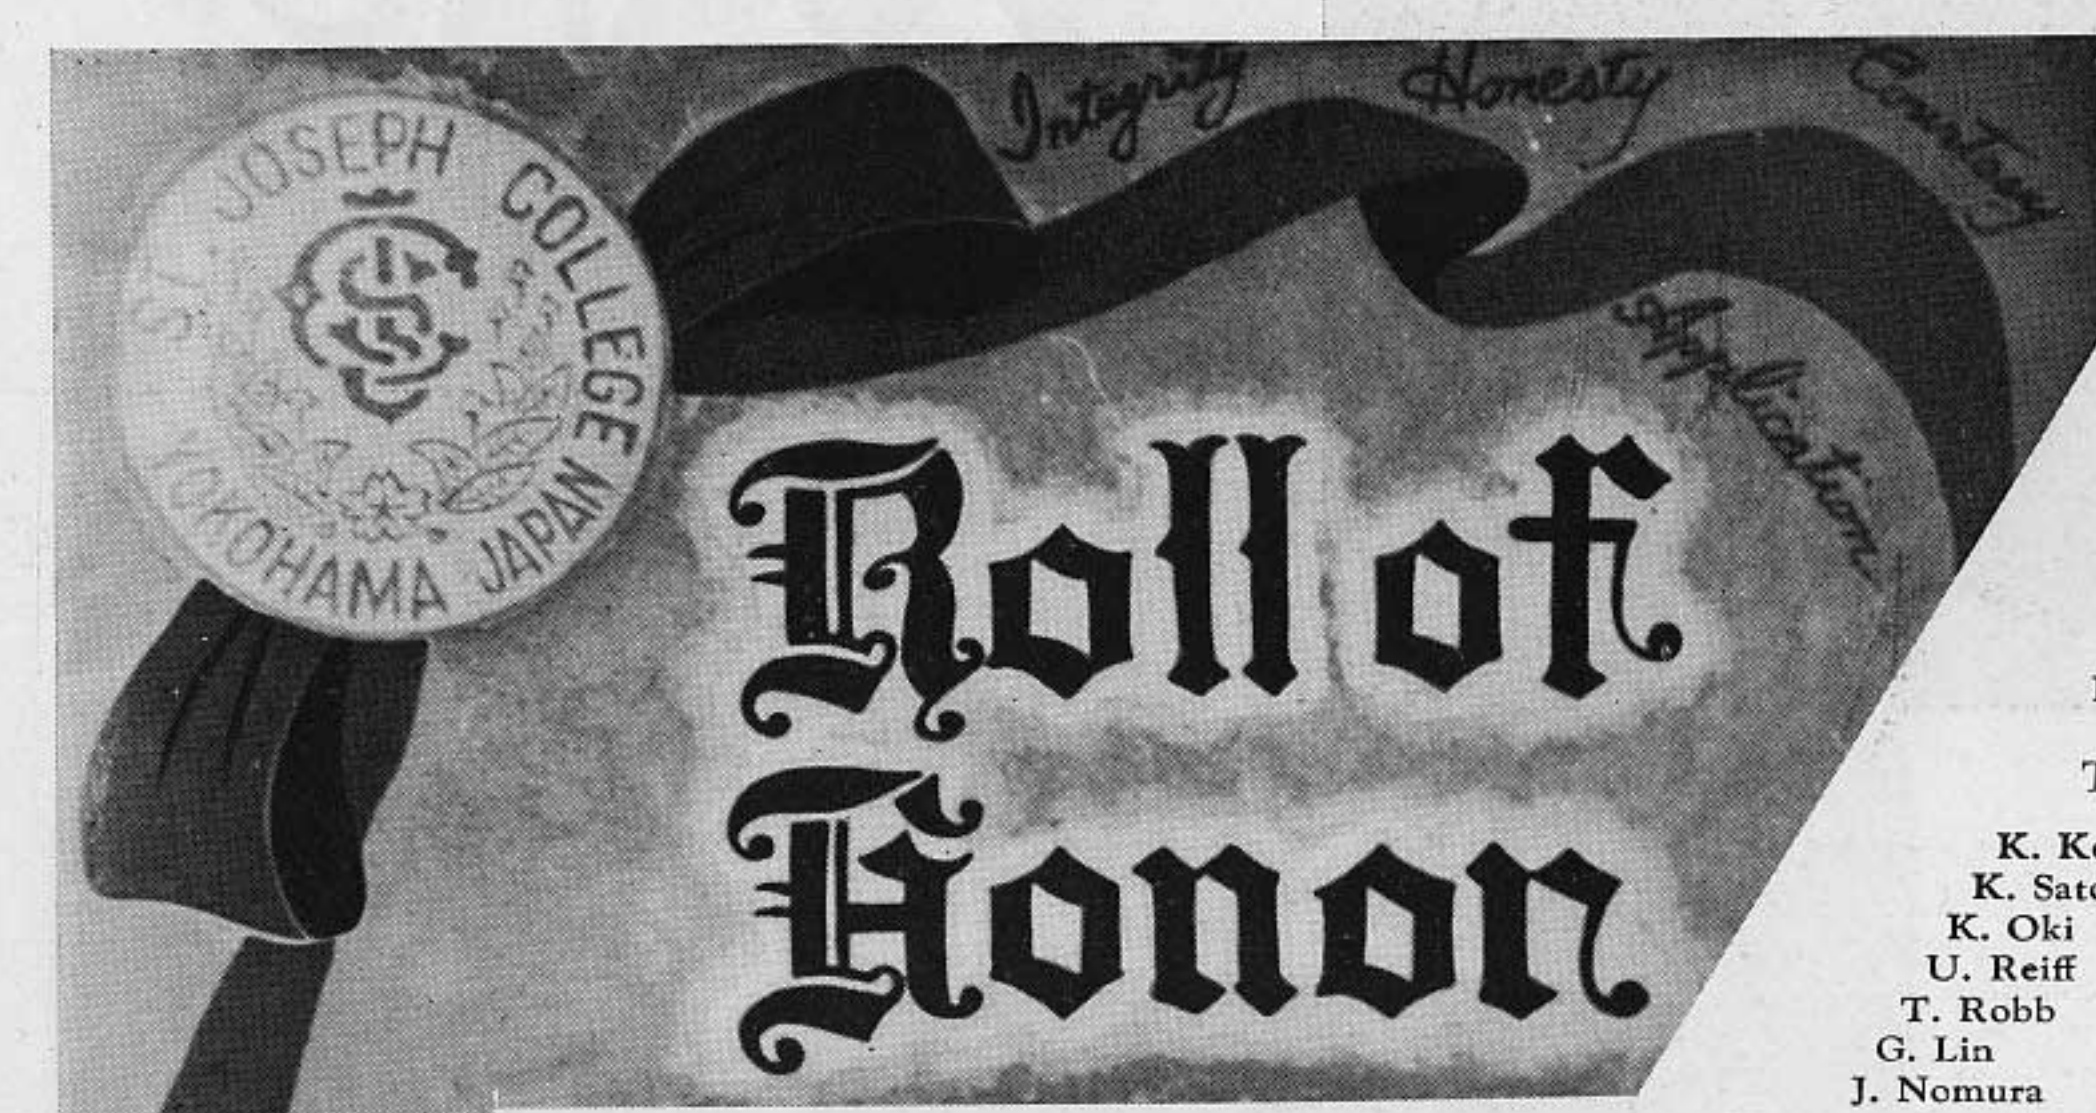

Father Gerber (top) gives the junior-senior religion class an explanation of the spiritual life within each member of the Mystical Body of Christ.

Bro. Masur (left) outlines the ancient Chinese ideas on the moral code to the other half of the 11th and 12th grades.

Before the anniversary of the death of Rev. William Joseph Chaminade, founder of the Society of Mary, a contest sponsored by the religion department was held to heighten interest and enthusiasm in this illustrious and saintly man. The winners of this contest were: (l. to r.) T. Hsia, K. Kashiloff, H. Miyamatsu, H. Quini, S. Hsia.

On the Honor Roll are listed those students whose scholastic average is ninety per cent or above. It is a symbol of achievement, of progress, of serious application to studies.

X'MAS

MUSIC

M. Albert, a veteran Marianist who last year celebrated his diamond jubilee, teaches young lads the gentle and beautiful art of applying pastel colors to paper with the result shown above (left). A group of eager pupils give their attention to this devoted octogenerian's pointer concerning this carefully drawn work, but the young man with the mischievous look on the right seems to be more interested in the camera than in M. Albert's instructions.

Hans Enderle gets "the works" from the X-ray machine while Lu, Chew, Alex Bellikoff and Iwasawa keep the line flowing smoothly.

Once every year, St. Joseph College provides a complete physical examination for all its students in order that defects of the body may be quickly detected and remedied.

During this school year the main entrance of the College (left) was leveled, widened and paved so as to facilitate the entrance and exit of cars. The entrance doors and windows were replaced and new gateposts were erected. Meanwhile a new students' entrance (right) directly facing St. Joseph's hill was constructed as a memorial to M. Jean-B. Gaschy on the occasion of his diamond jubilee. This new gateway will greatly facilitate student movement in and out of the school building.

These lads, trays filled with nourishing buns, sandwiches, sushi and soft drinks, are those who daily deliver cafeteria orders to their individual classrooms.

The library staff, shown here inspecting new books, worked throughout last summer cataloguing the 5000 books in the school library. Thanks to these tireless workers, all the books are now numbered according to the generally accepted Dewey decimal system.

On January 10, 1955, the S. J. C. Chronicle, official school newspaper, first went on sale. This paper, edited by members of the high school under the direction of Bro. Masur, is published monthly for the purpose of giving students an outlet for their literary talents, letting students express their opinions, and chronicling current events.

Fulfilling the expressed wish of the principal, a large number of students attended the first in a series of games between St. Joseph's and Yo-Hi, A.S.I.J. and Narimasu, played at the Yo-Hi gym.

Enthusiastically led by Paul Matsushima, a section of the S. J. C. crowd here enlivens the spirit of the team by loud and concerted cheers.

Left bottom: Father Wilhelm, flanked by Bro. Tribull and Bro. Santos, decorates the St. Joseph Scout flag with the ribbons won at the Scoutercraft Rally.

St. Joseph College International Boy Scout Troop 1 here is pictured in a few of its many activities. The troop, under the direction and supervision of Scoutmaster Bro. Santos, participated during late October in a Scoutercraft Rally held on the grounds of the Yokohama American High School, where it won five blue ribbons and one red ribbon, having participated in six events.

EXCURSION

During the spring of each year—during Easter week—each class of St. Joseph's takes to the hills—or the plains—or the beaches—for that eagerly awaited annual excursion. The purpose of these outings is the cultural and educational advancement of the students of S. J. C. as well as the pleasure derived from putting distance between themselves and their classrooms. Most of the arrangements for rail and bus travel, hotel accommodations, and the like, are made by the boys themselves. Since these escapades occur after the yearbook has gone to press, it is necessary that pictures from the previous year be used. Here, then, are some snapshots of the excursions of 1954.

For the first time in the history of S.J.C., our soccer team gained a place in the "A" class league of Kanagawa prefecture. Under the able coaching of Bro. Zabala and the leadership of J. Henry and Paul Bellikoff, the "hilltoppers" conquered the difficulty of training recruits. They tried to keep up to the former standards in dashing, heading and powerful kicking by faithful practice. With Paul Bellikoff as the "backbone" the backfield successfully kept the opponents from making goals.

Unfortunately our forwards' scoring ability was reduced when Chew was injured in a game early in the season. In spite of this, Alex Bellikoff led the forwards in piling up points. Their effort was rewarded on February 9th when they finally won the Yokohama City Championship.

BASKETBALL

Bro. Paul took much time in getting the "cream out of milk" this year. The team lost all but one player from last year's Varsity. This hard blow was not softened since the team can boast only one senior member. Although the individual players are not so skilled as those of previous years, the Varsity is recovering from the blow by team work and hard practice. They aim to build up a complete team by next year and regain the standard of former years.

The sad experience of the Autumn of 1953 taught these serious-minded young men and made them determined to win the Yokohama City Soft-ball Championship. This year they started their practice early in the season and awaited the tournament in perfect condition. With dogged accuracy and overwhelming enthusiasm they whipped every reputed team and won the long sought trophy. Joyous over their triumph in the Y.C.S.C., they ventured to take the Kanagawa-ken Soft-ball Championship. Their landslide victories came to an abrupt end when they met "Army Hospital" in the Semi-finals.

S.J.C. ASSOCIATION

The S. J. C. Association, which was reorganized in May, 1952, is the official alumni association of St. Joseph College. To strengthen the bonds of friendship among the old S. J. C. boys by fostering various social activities conducive to good fellowship . . . to enable the Old Boys to keep in contact with the Faculty who have a constant and lasting interest in them . . . to enable the Old Boys to further important school activities . . . to enable the Old Boys to become acquainted with the members of the present graduating class and to assist them in their careers and employment—these are the general aims and purposes of the Association. All former students, alumni, and all friends of the school in good standing in their community are eligible for membership.
